

This is my head. 	That is her head. 	These are my eyes.  This is one eye.      This is the other eye.	Her eyes are open.  Her eyes are closed.
My eyes are open. I see. Her eyes are closed. She does not see.  I see her. She does not see me.	Now her eyes are open. She sees. What does she see? She sees me.  I see her. Our eyes are open.	Her eyes are open.  She sees. They were closed. She did not see.  She did not see me.	Her eyes are closed.  They were open. She saw. What did she see?  She saw me.
A man has two eyes. I have two eyes.  These are my eyes. A man has a nose. I have a nose.  This is my nose.	A man has a mouth. I have a mouth.  This is my mouth.	This man's mouth is open. He is saying "mouth."  His mouth is closed.  He is not saying "mouth."	His mouth is closed. He will say "mouths."  He is saying mouths." said "mouths." He is not saying "mouths" now. His mouth is closed again.
These are three books.  They are on a shelf.  This book is between the other two books.	 I have the book in my hand now. It was on the shelf. It was between the other two books on the shelf.	These are the pages of the book.  These are the covers of the book. The pages are between the covers of the book.	These are the fingers of my hand.  This finger is between these other two fingers of my hand.

My nose is between my eyes.  And it is between my eyes and my mouth.	My mouth is under my nose.  My nose is over my mouth. Our noses are over our mouths.	The light is over the table.  The dog is under the table.	This is a clock.  It is on the wall. It is over the bookshelves.  The bookshelves are under the clock.
 This is his hair. It is short.  This is her hair. It is long.	These are his ears.  Where are her ears? They are under her hair.  Her hair is over her ears.	This is his head.   This is his face. His eyes, his nose, and his mouth are parts of his face.	This is a clock.  It has a face. This is the face of the clock. The clock has hands, a long hand and a short hand. The long hand is at 5. The short hand is between 7 and 8.
A clock has a face.  It has no nose.  It has no eyes.  It has no mouth. 	It has no ears.  It has no hair but it has a face.  It has a face and two hands, the long hand and the short hand. 	 The long hand of the clock is between one and two. One is before two. Two is between one and three. Three is after two and two is after one.	 I have this book in my hands. It was on the shelf with the other books. It was between the other two books before I took it from the shelf.
 I have it in my hand. I am putting it between the other two books. Then it will be with the other books.	 Now it is on the shelf again. It was in my hand. I had it in my hand. It is not in my hand. Where is it?	 This is a room. What do you see in the room? Do you see the floor and three walls of the room?	Do you see a door and two windows? Is one of the windows open? Is the other window closed? Do you see two seats and the bookshelves between them? Yes, I see them. These are in the room. The room is in a house.
